

Word-of-Mouth auction

For an exceptionally rare unfinished 1985 painting by Australia's highest living artist, Sharon Davson.

Two paintings were recently re-discovered. ONLY Creative People is available for sale with bidding options in currency, real estate, diamonds and other of value Monthly instalments that can be spread out over an agreed time.

- “Creative People is likely to create two world firsts:
- “At its current bid or above for Creative People, this is likely to be the highest price paid for an unfinished painting by a living artist. Sharon Davson started it thirty years ago.
- “The artist has agreed to finish the painting which would then, to our knowledge, make it the first time a painting’s creation will have spanned 30 years; 1985-2105.”
- “Sharon Davson also has several other four figure sales to become public in August in association with The Davson art hotel venture.
- The above could mean that the Creative People painting is likely to be the centre of much media attention concerning its seven figure offers / sale, and then its progress to a completed painting; after which it is likely to rise in value significantly.

"Creative People is one of two works, both the same size (92 x 122 cm – 3 ft x 4 ft), that were started by the artist in 1985, and have been in various storage locations since that time. They were recently re-discovered by a Sydney accountant and collector of Davson's art who was very excited by the find, but could not afford the paintings.

▪ "Interestingly, Davson only created a total of twenty-four in the 1980's; even though she was running a professional studio and living solely from the sales of her art.

It had serious value even then. Most of these were sold before being created and have periodically changed hands from collector to collector for considerable sums rising into seven figures. Her paintings have proved to be good investments for their owners, with values doubling very frequently. It is becoming increasingly likely that many of these two dozen works held in various collections are rising to seven or even eight figure values."
